

I'm concerned that media has become too concentrated in the U.S. Freedom of the press is fundamental in a democracy. I suggest that the FCC policy on this subject should be to encourage as much diversity in media ownership as possible. Also more incentives should be given to start up public radio and television stations.